

SEA SCOUT SHIP 25

September 2020

On The Water:

While the boating season remains open, scouts have been focusing on advancements that require being on the water. We have done on the water training including overnight adventures and night time sailing.

Service Project:

Emily Lampman's Quartermaster project kicked off on Saturday the 12th. Emily offered boaters free safety information and vessel inspections. Since the Coast Guard Auxiliary and America's Boating Club were not authorized to do inspections this year due to COVID-19, Emily was able to get permission to provide the information in an unofficial setting.
